Mil. Owens as "Solon Shirsqie."—The New Chee not Street Theatre was packed from floor to foot last night to witness Mr. Owens a stashionable and critical ene, and the appearse was given sparingly, but with exceeding the support of the eccentric, non-character. The andience was a tashionable and critical ene, and the appearse was given sparingly, but with exceeding the support of the eccentric, non-charact, exceedingly droil, and peculiar. American character of 'Uncle Solon Shingle,' by Mr. Owens, is certainly a spendid achievement and the performance of the partiast night was a great success.

Mr. Owens lived for more than an hour the character he assumed, and even in the most trivial by play he was wholly and completely Uncle Solon Shingle." There was once a very pretty American play called the People's Lawyer, in which the character of "Solon Shingle," a comical old farmer appeared Mr. Owens has given this play to a damastist, who has destroyed the original piot and improved and extended the part of "Solon Shingle."

The play as presented by Mr. Owens last night was one of the weakest specimens of dramatic construction we have ever seen—in a word, it is just what it is called. Uncle Solon Shingle, made up of The People's Lawyer. This may be excusable in Mr. Owens, who has identified himsel; with the character to such an extent as to make it the chief role of a very limited reservoire. Solon shingle will appear as "John E. Owens" again this evening.

Musical Fund Hall—Max Sthakosch's Concerts.—
The first grand concerts of the season are amounced to take place at the Musical Fund Hall on Friday and Satu day evenings of this week. They are to be given by the troupe of musical stricts now travelling through the States under the management of Max Strakosch. All but one are strangers in Philadelphia, and this one is to lavorite basso Karl Formes, whose name is a tower of strength. A fine plants, Hert Bockelman, and the violinist, F Jehn Prunne are the instrumentalists of the troupe and are very warmly commended by those who have heard them. The new vocalists are Mad'lle Mathilde Piodowska, from La Scala a soprane; Mad'lle Frida de Gebele, a contraito; and a tenor. Limberti, all of whom are endorsed as artists of indisputable eminence. Strakosch has introduced many excellent vocalists to the American public, and his taste in making selections for a company is we'l established. The new comers will therefore be heard with attention, and raay rely upon a cordial reception. Tickets can be secured without extra charge at Trumpler's music store, Seventh and Chesnut streets.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

[For Additional City Intelligence see Second Page.]

A BREACH OF FAITH,-Two men, one drunk, the other sober, struck one of those mystsmously sudden frieddships that generally augurmischiet, yesterday afternoon, whilst in the Park. Laquire was the name of the sober one; the name of the o her is not given. The drunken man, it is alleged, was induced by Laquire to retire into the bushes to sleep off the effects of his superabundant spirits. After being together some time the drunken man mixed his nocket-book, containing all his man missed his pocket-book, containing all his earthly store of cash, and was mightly perplexed thereat. After an ineffectual search of some minthereat. After an ineffectual search of some musures, a brilliant idea struck him, knocking him almost sober, and he accused his friend (?) Laquire of having taken it. Officer Lamsback, who hapnened to be near by, heard the altercation, and took Laquire into custody.

When I amsback took him he told Laquire he would lock him up until he disgorged his plunder. He said with the most violent asseverations, and the hitterest and most awful oaths, that he would not bitterest and most awful oaths, that he would not and could not do so vie a thing. Cooling down, however, he at last asked if he would be left alone however, he at last asked if he would be left alone in case he confessed where the pocket-book was. He then took Officer Lamsback into the bushes where the two had been, and taking off his boot and stocking, a la Major Andre, produced the pocket-book with all the money, which was restored to the rightful owner, who went off rejoicing, and pondering on the peuls of new-made friendships. Laquire had a hearing before Alderman Hutchinson, who held him in $500 to answer.

BASE BALL CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE UNITED STATES.—The immense crowd that assembled vesterday to witness the game for the championship of the United States, was so great that the players found it impossible to proceed with the game, and it was therefore declared off before the first inning was finished. The disorder that occurred on the grounds is supposed to have been created by the heavy betting of certain parties present. A committee of members from the Atlautic and Athletic clubs held a conference meeting last night, when it was decided to play the first game for championship at the Capitoline grounds, Brook-iyn, on Monday week.

The Union Base Ball Club, of Washington, composed entirely of clerks in the employ of the Government, having sent a challenge to the Richmond Base Ball Club to play a match game, received the tollowing reply :-

RICHMOND, September 22.—J. F. Dooley, Secretary Union sase Ball Club.—Sir:—Your communication of the 22st inst. is before me. I am instructed to state that the Bichmond Ball Club does not desire, and will not piay the Union Club a single game. We are not, nor do we expect to be members of the National Base Ball Convention. Our reason: We are Southerners. Hoping this may be satisfactory, I am.

A CASE OF BAD MEMORY .- This morning, A CASE OF BAD MEMORY.—This morning, as a police officer was walking his beat, he saw a wagon standing in May court, which runs from Fitzwater at Ninth strot, with a couple of barrels of whisky in it. There was also in the wagon a man Lamed Patrick Convery, who was wrapped in the arms of Mcrpheus. When awakened and asked what he was doing there, he did not know. When asked where the barrels came from, he did not know. In fact, he was utterly oblivious as to the manner in which they came into his possession. Deeming such sublime ignorance rather a suspicious circumstance, Patrick was arrested; and on his continuing to give the same statement as to how the whisky got into his the same statement as to how the whisky got into his possession, before Alderman Tittermary, he was committed to answer the charge of infringing the revenue laws. The barrels were both painted blue on

A Row IN A BEER SHOP.—Three men named Terence Mackin, H. Drevel, and Robert Topping, went into a lager beer saloon at Front and Girard avenue, and after drinking divers drinks got into a free fight. For a short time there was a lively skymi-h, and windows, glasses, and furniture suffered severely in the melee. The noise naturally attracted the attention of the police, who rusned in and soon quelled the disturbance. Whilst the arrests were being made, Mackin it is alleged made an assaut on one of the officers. They were all taken in charge, and had a hearing before Alderman Sheemaker, who held them in $500 bail to answer the charge of disorderly conduct, and Mackin for interfering with an officer. A Row IN A BEER SHOP .- Three men

A LITTLE WANDERER.—Cassy Sweitzer A LITTLE WANDERER,—Cassy Sweltzer, a child about 12 years old was picked up in the Park yesterday, whilst wandering about in a most disconsolate manner, and evidently in a most unhappy state of mind. She stated that she had been living with her parents in New Jersey, but that the other day they had beaten her and driven her out of their house, and she had wandered over the city seeking a home. She was taken in charge by the police authorities until the real facts of the case can be known.

GRAND RECEPTION OF THE EAGLE FIRE COMPARY OF PITTERURG.—The turn-out to receive the taple Fire Company of Pittaburg was a splendid affair, and participated in by a large proportion of the firemen of the city. It cortainly was a spendid velcome The Eagle sent on their "machine" last Saturday to this city, reaching here on Sunday morning.

norning. It was housed and taken charge of by the West Phi It was housed and taken charge of by the West Philadelphia Fire Company.

There were forty companies signified their intention of participating in the reception of the "Eagle," but owing to some misapprehension but twenty turned out. The following is the route of the parade, James A. Huriey, Esq., officiating as Chief Marshall:—

The column formed on Market street, and move down Market to Thirtieth, down Thirtieth to Chesnut, down Chesnut to Fourth, down Fourth to Pine, up Pine to Twelfth, up Twelfth to Arch, up Arch to Eighteenth, up Eighteenth to Green down Green to Sixth, down Sixth to Race, down Race to Front.

Sixth, down Sixth to Race, down Race to Front, and there dismiss.

The parade certainly shows the kind and friendly feeling of our fire companies for a sister company of another city.

ANNA E. DICKINSON AT THE ACADEMY or MUSIC.—The reputation of Miss Anna E. Dick-mson as the first lemale orator of the United States is now so fully established, that it would be idle for is now so fully established, that it would be idle for us to say anything in praise of her rhetorical abilities. But we will surely be pardoned for calling attention to the thorough earnestness and heavy sympathy with the oppressed of the nation which have ever characterized her efforts as a public locturer. The cause of humanity and justice possesses no advocate of the sterner sex who is more outspoken in his sympathy for everything that partakes of the character of progress and true enlightenment.

On Thursday evening she delivers at the Academy

On Thursday evening she delivers at the Academy of Music an entirely new lecture on "The Rejected Stone," not the rejected stone of slavery, on which Alexander H. Stephens harped so tediously during the haleyon days of the C. S. A., but the rejected stone of equal justice, which was rejected by the first builders, but is now become the corner-stone of the regenerated resulting these who wish to hear her regenerated republic. those who wish to hear her will do well to secure their tickets without delay.

TEMPORARY REMOVAL .- Our old friend T. B. Pugh, who has been comfortably established at the corner of Sixth and Chesnut streets for so many years past that we had supposed him to be a veritable fixture in that localiv, has at ast been forced to make a temporary removal by reason of the progress of the improvements there He is established for the time being in the rear of the Bulletin office, No. 609 Chesnut street, the entrance to which can be effected from either Chesnut or Jayne street. Here the lovers of light and entertaining reading, as well as those who are accus-tomed to indulge in the more substantial literature of the day, will find the complete and mexhaustible supply which always aways awaited them at the old stand.

THE BEAUTIFUL WEATHER .- We have been favored for the past few days with the most delightful weather. It remains to be seen what the effect of it will be upon the health of our city. The reports of the cholera for the two days ending noon yesterday, showed apparently a most a arming increase in the number of cases. There is an apparent explanation of this in the lact that the physicians are now more regular in their reports; but still the public are not apt to be perfectly satisfied by the explanation. It is to be hoped, with a continuation of the present clear weather we are now having, that the report of cases will grow beautifully less in

SNEAK THIEF,-Charles Senier went to No. 1121 Wister street, on the 18th of September last, and engaged board and lodeing. At the time he engaged board he did not have any baggage, except a small parcel he carried in his hand. The day after, on the 19th, he leit, and carried with him a bundle containing a pair of pants and a vest, valued at $26, belonging to Mr. J. Lehey, one of the boarders and also a fine shirt. Miss Kate Russell, who lives at the house, saw Senier on Ridge avenue, near Green, yesterday, and going to Alderman Massey's office, got a constable to arrest him. He had a hearing before the Alderman, who committed

A Young Scamp Missing. - Benjamin A YOUNG SCAMP MISSING.—Benjamin Graham, aped thirteen years, who has been iving at No. 1625 Richard street, below Penn, has been missing since last Saturday evening. He is a slimbuiit fellow, and was working with Granvhie Haines, No. 1012 Market street. He had on a dark blue cloth cap, with eagle brass buttons, and two rows of narrow blue edgings on the lower edge of cap. He took with him two roundabouts, two pairs of pants, and one striped gingham shirt, and some smaller articles. Any information can be lodged with Chief Defective Benjamin Franklin. with Chief Detective Benjamin Franklin.

THE CHOLERA AT BURLINGTON .- The cholera panic at Burlington, New Jersey, has about subsided. During the last five days of September there were eight deaths in all from the disease. With one exception, all of these were traceable to a specific cause in one particular locality. The Sanitary Committee went to work at once, and by their precautions have prevented the spread of the disease. We are assured that since Saturday no new case of the intal scourge has made its appearance.

TERNED THEIR FLANK .- Two fast gentlemen, with fast horses, were driving very fast in the Park yesterday afternoon. Officer Lamsback called to them to "hold their horses," but they only went the faster. He then borrowed a horse from a friend, and starting after the racing sentlemen, made such rapid pursuit that he soon outflanked and captured them both, and taking them captive, he introduced them to Alderman Hutchinson, who fined them both

A TILL-TAPPER. - James Nolan, it is A TILL-PAPPER. — James Rolan, it is alleged, undertook to raise the wind by tapping the till of a storekeeper at Nineteenth and Hamilton streets. James partly succeeded in his netarious object, but only in the sense that the fellow in the story did when he took the Tartar prisoner. In fact, James was arrested at Nineteenth and Spring Garden streets, and after a short and spicy interview with Alderman Pancoast, he was held in $500 to answer.

GREAT INCREASE IN CASES OF CHOLERA. -Since noon of yesterday, there were 38 cases of cholera reported to the Board of Health. Owing to the great discrepancy of the number of deaths as reported to the Board of Health, and the number reported in the weekly bills of mortality, the publication of the number of deaths will not be made hereafter. There is apparently a great and alarming increase in the number of cases reported.

CHANGES AT THE CUSTOM HOUSE,-There has been extensive guillotining at the Custom House during the last day or two. It is reported that over a hundred changes and appointments have been made. Hon Charles J. Carrington, it is reported, has been appointed Deputy Naval Officer. There is considerable wailing and gnashing of teeth, and also much of rejoicing among the "ins" and the SUICIDE.—Thomas Read, a young man of his parents, committed suigide about 9 o'clock this morning, at his residence. The Arlington Mauston.

The household effects left at the Arlington Mansion by General Lee, or rather the fragments remaining of them, were yesterday delivered to the party authorized by General Lee to receive them. This was done, the National Intelligencer says, under an order of the President. It appears that nearly everything of any value had been stolen, and many valuable heirlooms, including some of the family portraits, had been purloined.

The portraits were taken from the frames, packed in boxes, and stored in the upper loft of the mansion for safety in 1861. These boxes had been broken open, and everything of real value taken away, and the letters and private papers of General Lee scattered over the loft, Newport, Ky., September 28.—The murder of Captain Almon P. Menter by Allen P. Eggleston, who, until his complete identification by parties who knew him here, gave his name as Waiter B. Watson, took place under circumstances of such a peculiar character that, before detailing the final representation of the complete o scenes in the tragedy, it may prove both interesting and instructive to review the prelude, by reproducing briefly the melancholy circumstance.

On the night of the 5th of June last the murdered man returned to his residence in the city from Cincinnati, where in his capacity as leader and products of the colored to the prietor of the celebrated cornet band bearing his name, he had conducted its performance at the Mike Lipman circus and menagerie then exhibiting in that city. Accompanied by his son a young man, and member of the band, he reached the door of his house, which, contrary to custom, he found ajar.

Somewhat surprised at the circumstance, and not a little startled from the instantaneous reflection has pace, and entering the house, saw the figure of a man, brought into relief by the moonlight shining through the ball-open door of a bedroom, reached by the staircase upon which the introduction.

by the staircase upon which the intruder was thus revealed.

The not that Exglesion, ever since his respite, entertained not the singhtest hope of reprieve from the death penalty, studiously closed his lips as to the mental workings of his nature, save to his spiritual advisors, Revs. Messrs. Spillman and Straeffer, of the Bapt at Church excluded from the knowledge of the press everything usually regarded as interesting in the latter days of a criminal, and adhering to this rather commencable conduct even up to his appearance outside the jail, leaves little to be told save what was seen by all.

Egglesion ate his last supper, last evening, at 6 o'c ock; but touched his lood sparingly, and spent the night, up to 12 o'clock, in religious exercises. He then retired, and slept soundly until 4 o'clock this morning, when he arose and prayed for an hour. He had breakiast at 7, ate very little, but drank a little Catawba wine.

The place of execution selected was well adapted to afford 'a good sight' of the hideous spectacle. It is an an phinheatre at the head of Columbia street, formed by gradually sloping hills on all sides, which would have admitted of probably 100,000 people seeing the gallows, provided that many had assembled.

For the credit of our humanity, not over fifteen

For the credit of our humanity, not over fifteen

For the credit of our humanity, not over fifteen thousand out of the population of the three cities and the country surrounding, which cou d assemble nearly five hundred thousand people, were present; but these included hundreds of women and children. The gallows is an old clumsy frame, with an ordinary trap-door, cross-beam with rusty iron ring, and siving a fail of ten feet clear. The machine had been used twice—the first time about twenty-five years ago, and the second time about twenty-five years ance. The crowd commenced to gather as early as 7 o'clock in the morning, and there it stood and gaped all the day until the spectacle was over.

The death march commenced from the jail at a quarter past one o'clock, the culprit being scated in an open two-horse carriage, with his spiritual advisers, and followed by a wagon containing his coffin. Pale and fixed his features appeared, but his demeanor was calm, and not a gesture revealed the interpal struggle with impending death.

Eggleston was accompanied by the Sheriff and two deputies, two physicians, and two ministers of the gospel. The rope had already been placed around his neck, and all that remained was to hear his dying words, fasten the fatal cord to the crossbeam, and execute the law's vonscance upon the unhalpy man. The sight of the ghastiy cap and the horrid engine of death excited no apparent emotion in the man; he stood firm as a rock—unmoved as a statue. After stepping on the trap he delivered an address in a measurably deliberate manner, and with perfect distinctness.

The rope drew through the neck knot, some blundering efficial having failed to the the mard knot which prevents such a horrid result. Horror and dismay spread over the features of the Sheriff and his deputies; but in the course of a minute, which must have stemed centuries to the condemned, he was taken up from the ground and carried upon the gallows once more. As he was being picked up his histly voice from beneath the ghastly cap exclaimed, "Oh, gentlemen, don't let that occur again."

The nervoueness natural to the occasion, and the hight imparted to the officers by this unanticipated officumstance, delayed the execution fully three minutes, but at last the rope was readjusted, trap resprong, and the body of Allen P. Ezgleston, now struggling in its death agony, hung suspended from the gallows beam. The horrid drawing up of the shoulders peculiar to those hung by the neck until they are dead was observable for three minutes, and it is probable that at the expiration of that brief period lite was extreet.

The body hung for over half an hour, and was then period life was extract. The body hung for over half an hour, and was then cut down and coffined for interment in the notters' field, or smong the graves of friends, provided any
